WE TAKE QUALITY PERSONALLY.

Fame is not our mission. The average person may not have heard of Wheeler-Rex. That's just fine with us. We have been quietly producing the very best, hand made, personally inspected and serviced tools for water works and plumbing contractors since the 1950s.

While our competitors are focused on advertising to get the next customer, Wheeler-Rex is working harder on service and quality because for us, our reputation is our marketing strategy.

WHEELER-REX THREADING MACHINES

PLUG AND PLAY

Our threading machines are ready to go the moment they arrive at your facility. Get it to the job site, plug it in and start threading!

EASY MAINTENANCE

Maintenance is made easy with our machines as you can change dies without removing the die head from the machine and check the oil pump without taking apart the machine.

COMPATIBILITY

Many die sets and cutter wheels are interchangeable within the Wheeler-Rex family of threaders. Some can even be used with the Model 300.

INNOVATION

Wheeler-Rex brought the ball-detent and notch type die heads to the market, helping make threading simpler and easier than ever!

WITH PATIENCE COMES QUALITY.

Some have said that our standard of quality is too high. Maybe if our tools weren't built to last so long and we spent less time focused on supporting our current customers we would be more like the big tool brands. That's not the way we work.

Wheeler-Rex is not a brand, it's a reputation. To us it's personal. Our reputation is all we have, it's all we sell. We don't pour millions of dollars into marketing. Rather, we invest heavily in our products and our people.

We have blended the best of Japanese and American manufacturing culture to create a company focused on product perfection, employee pride and customer success.

If you're looking to impress others with a bigger brand then we may not be for you.

We say, impress yourself with tools and relationships that last, choose Wheeler-Rex.
